Custom Process

- 1 Mockup Request

Begin by sharing your design concepts or opt for one of our initial silhouettes as a starting point. Provide any specific material or design preferences, as well as details on the required quantity and timeline. Additionally, ensure you send us your brand guidelines and a vectored logo.
- 2 Sample Approval

Evaluate your personalized mockup and provide estimate pricing with your clients. Choose an item for sampling, and expect to receive your sample within 4-6 weeks. You can make any necessary adjustments, request a second-round sample, or proceed directly to production.
- 3 Production & Shipping

Production on average takes 45-60 days. We ship by either airfreight (with a shipping time of 1-2 weeks) or by boat (with a shipping time of 5-6 weeks).

BAG SOLUTIONS FOR CHICK-FIL-A

Chick-Fil-A requested high quality and cost-effective silhouettes for a variety of events and merchandising. Most recently they needed ideas for their conference pop-up shop launch. Our team worked with inspiration images, fabrics, and timeline in order to create brand new unique silhouettes that fit their modern and fun branding.

BAG SOLUTIONS FOR AMAZON

Amazon was searching for unisex and functional bags, that above all needed to match their brand colors. We were able to accomplish this by working closely with the distributor and our sample team to make samples that matched their perfect shade of blue.

BAG SOLUTIONS FOR PELOTON

Peloton representatives have requested seasonal bags designed around a specific color palette, seeking fresh, creative ideas to enhance their product offerings and captivate customers. Our team balances aesthetics with functionality, ensuring each design aligns with the brand's vision by incorporating features like shoe pockets, key leashes, and details that accommodate an active lifestyle.

My Sweet Kate Program

Empowering every journey.

MEET KATE

When Kate Rigby was born with Pfeiffer Syndrome, her journey came with unique challenges, including the need for a feeding tube. The hospital-provided backpack she received was functional but lacked the quality and versatility her family needed. Recognizing this, Kate's father, Jake Rigby—co-founder of Uinta Design—set out to create a better solution. He designed a custom backpack that met Kate's specific needs while reflecting her fun and unique personality.

Realizing that other families faced similar struggles, we partnered with our local children's hospital to make a difference. Today, Uinta Design donates custom feeding tube backpacks to families in need, ensuring they receive a product that combines quality, function, and care.

We are proud to provide these backpacks at no cost to Primary Children's Hospital, offering parents peace of mind as they care for their children's special needs. Looking ahead, we are committed to expanding this program to serve families through hospitals in multiple regions.
